

Listed here are some of the venues we have worked at in the London Area in the recent months. We hope it helps in your quest.

Things to consider when looking for a venue

- Does the venue have 16 X 12ft of staging available. If so would there be 8ft 3" height clearance on top of it? (Stages can cost around £350 - £500 to hire in).
- Does the hotel already supply pin spotting? (another hidden cost)
- If the rooms too big, it's harder to create an atmosphere, too small and things may get compromised.
- Few venues are ideal. What you gain in character you may lose in practicality. (Columns look nice, but play havoc with people's view)
- The reception area may not be ideal, but the party room is perfect, what is more important"?

What do we look for in a venue?

- Staging. (If we are raised everyone can see the entertainment, and we can hold people's attention.)
- Atmosphere (you can walk into an empty room and it feels right)

The rest is your personal taste.
